

NinaLynn

Press release

NinaLynn is an alternative folk singer-songwriter with roots in Americana, drawing from the lyrical honesty of Joni Mitchell, the intimate folk world of Katherine Priddy and the modern songcraft of Madison Cunningham. With a warm, deeply present voice and poetic songs about reflection, nature, vulnerability and wonder, she invites listeners into music that feels both personal and shared.

Her albums Hummingbird and A Taste Of The Wild both reached number 1 on the Euro Americana Chart, with A Taste Of The Wild also topping the Dutch Americana & Roots Top 13. Created with her band – Janos Koolen, Arthur Bont and Lucas Beukers – her live sound is organic, intimate and rich.

A NinaLynn concert is a place to pause, listen closely and leave a little more connected than you came.

Short biography

NinaLynn makes warm folk and Americana full of intimate stories, rich melodies and a voice that draws you close live and pulls you into her world.

Longer biography

NinaLynn makes warm, story-driven folk and Americana in which personal observations, nature and everyday moments grow into songs that come close. With her clear voice, intimate lyrics and a sound that moves between small acoustic moments and rich folk arrangements, she creates a world live that you want to stay in for a while. Her shows are not only about the songs, but about the story around them: open, human and sometimes playful. For fans of artists like Joni Mitchell, Madison Cunningham and Kacey Musgraves, a NinaLynn concert is an invitation to slow down, to listen and to be carried along.

Press photos

The photos are included as separate files in the zip. Please credit: Irina Dzhul.

Photo: Irina Dzhul

Photo: Irina Dzhul